TECHNICAL EXAMPLES

Project: EventPlan | Backend (Database, API, and Authentication) | Github

Description: EventPlan is a user based event organization app, which allows you to select a range of dates for a potential event, with the one that gets the most votes from attendees becoming the scheduled date. User authentication is handled by either Google via OAuth or email and password strategy. Both strategies use Passport middleware.

Technologies Used: React, Node.js, Express, Passport, MongoDB, Mongoose

Project: Project Three-Sixty | Backend (Routing and Authentication) | Github

Description: Project Three-Sixty is a simple job costing application, which allows for user input of job details and displays graphic reports. User authentication is handled via Passport middleware.

Technologies Used: Bootstrap, Node.js, Express, Passport, MySQL, Sequelize

Project: Where's the Show | Backend (JavaScript and AJAX calls) | Github

Description: Where's the Show allows a user to quickly call up a list of concerts that are taking place in their area (via geolocation and Google Places) over the next few days and gives a link to ticket purchasing and a related YouTube video.

Technologies Used: Materialize, JavaScript, jQuery, AJAX, Moment.js, Ticketmaster, YouTube, and Google Places APIs
